

ROWIN' ON THE RIVER

Submitted photo

Alondra Dominguez takes the oars on a rafting trip May 21 with other youths from Mount Vernon schools. In all, 17 students floated down the Skagit River from Hamilton to Sedro-Woolley to document invasive plant species along the banks. The trip was led by Chinook Enterprises and organized by the U.S. Forest Service, North Cascades Institute and Catholic Community Services.

The Argus

Tuesday, July 5, 2011